

Outside Funding

Taylor, R., Senwo, Z., and Wang, Y. 2004. National Science Foundation, Centers for Research Excellence in Science and Technology. NSF No. 0420541, $4,998,831. Schweitzer as co-PI on two subprojects: (1) The interaction of fire frequency and stand density on plant community dynamics. Co-Principal Investigators: Dimov, L., Schweitzer, C., and Tadesse, W. Funded September 2004 for 60 months, or September 2010. $883,903; (2) Molecular phylogeography of red oaks (Quercus spp., section Erythrobalanus). Co-Principal Investigators: Kantety, R., Schweitzer, C., Sharma, G., and Soliman, K. Funded September 2004 for 60 months, or September 2010. $298,192.

Clark, S., Schweitzer, C., Schlarbaum, S., and Dimov, L. 2006. American Chestnut (Castanea dentata) restoration research: a genetic and silvicultural approach. Funded by the American Chestnut Foundation, Science Cabinet, Board of Directors. April 2006-November 2007. $5,510.

Adams, J., Rehill, B., Dimov, L., Schweitzer, C., Clark, S. Submitted to NSF in January, 2006. Latitudinal gradients in tannins, leaf toughness and palatability in a common garden experiment on North American trees. January 2006-January 2010.

Clark, S., Schweitzer, C., and Dimov, L. 2006 Submitted. Fire, thinning and regeneration harvest effects on fuels and vegetation response in the Cumberland Plateau region. Spring 2006- 2009. Joint Fire Sciences Program. Requested $391,509.84.

Dimov, L., Naka, K., Ruark, G., and Schweitzer, C. 2006. Landowner Alternatives: performance of medicinal plants in a sweetgum understory and evaluation of sweetgum and loblolly pine silvopasture systems. Spring 2006-2007. Funded by USDA Cooperative State Research, Education and Extension Service, Alabama A&M University, CellFor Inc., and USDA National Agroforestry Center. $71,000.

Gibson, K., Pijanowski, B., Tadesse, W., Dimov, L., Schweitzer, C., and Clark, S. 2006 submitted. The effect of landscape and local factors on the distribution and abundance of invasive plants in the eastern U.S. Forests. Submitted to USDA Cooperative State Research, Education and Extension Service. Requested $186,066.

Clark, S., Dimov, L. and Schweitzer, C. 2006. Promoting Education and Enhancing Understanding of the Role of Professional Forestry. Funded by the Society of American Foresters. $1032.